THE S. COOPER SAYS

3 DAY OLD BABY Lures Rockefellers FROM RETREAT.

BILLIONAIRE LEAVES HIS PRISON PALACE TO SEE J. D., 3D.

By Boston American Evening Wire.
NEW YORK, March 24.—John D. Rockefeller, Sr., arrived at 8:30 o'clock tonight in a crowded automobile with the private chauffeur, at the residence of his son, John D. Rockefeller, Jr., at 15 West Fifty-fourth street, where a grandson and namesake had been born forty-four hours before.

It was the first time in months that the elder Rockefeller had been seen in New York city, except perhaps by a few intimates. As he alighted from the motor, he was not met by a family or a friend.

Public and apparently without any extraordinary welcome, the head of the Rockefeller family, who had been driven from the retreat in the city, was seen by his wife, who was a long-haired woman, with the blue and white hair of an old woman.

AUGUSTA, Me., March 24.—That Charles Northey, whom she is accused of having murdered, was infatuated with Alice F. Cooper, and she to a certain extent with him, was the substance of her own statement, repeated on the witness stand at her trial by two witnesses, High Sheriff Frank Ham and Deputy Sheriff Willis Pinkham.

"I was afraid of Charley, and I was not," she said. "Once when walking with him I became awfully afraid of him. I felt sure he was going to grab me and throw me in a brook."

Within forty-eight hours made Northey's death, Mrs. Cooper made three statements regarding the affair. Of these Sheriff Ham heard one, and Deputy Pinkham heard all three.

Each testified that she made substantially the same statements in regard to Northey's affection for her and hers for him.

CHURCH GIVES CONSOLATION TO BOY'S MOTHER

Love for Small Lad Who Died Rather Than Face Whipping at Home Shown by Scores.

FOUR BOY PAL BEARERS

"Suffer little children to come unto me, for of such is the Kingdom of Heaven."

Standing at the head of a small white coffin, Father Tracy read these words in a comforting, impressive way in St. Anthony's Church, Altona, yesterday afternoon.

In the coffin lay the body of poor little Francis Hyland, the nine-year-old boy who froze to death last Tuesday night, afraid to go home because a whipping awaited him there.

Tracy missed him. He had been a good boy and had been good to his home.

Tracy, Mrs. Hannah Connolly, an old lady who had known the boy since he was a child, but she died of his death. He was a good boy and had been good to his home.

FOR HIS RENOMINATION CLASSES AND GO AFTER HELP HER FIND HER HUSBAND

Swampscott Woman Fears Another Has Won Her Affections.

DAVENVILLE, Ky., March 24.—Having lost her husband, who left home about six months ago, Mrs. Edna G. Audette of Swampscott, has asked the local police to help her find her husband.

She fears that another woman has won her affections. She says she went to this woman and reported to her to keep away from Audette, as he was a married man, who had deserted his wife, and she had promised to give him up.

She reported to the woman's father for assistance. He promised that his daughter should be taken away from the hotel and forbidden to speak to Audette. Shortly afterward Audette disappeared.

Audette and Mrs. Audette were captured by moonshiners, who believed them to be revenue men. They forced the two men to the point of pistols to work all night at their moonshining still, while during the day they were held prisoners in a cave.

Thomas and James started to the Kentucky courts on February 25, and were captured by moonshiners, who believed them to be revenue men. They forced the two men to the point of pistols to work all night at their moonshining still, while during the day they were held prisoners in a cave.

No more inspiring scene can be imagined than that in our mill cities and towns when the day's work is done and the tide of humanity flows from the mills and fills the streets. This army of workers, sweeping out with seemingly irresistible energy—strong, intelligent, alive with ambition, hope, and aspirations—makes an interesting study.

But something more the beauty of this panorama of moving life. Here and there in the multitude are groups of men and women with drawn faces, eyes of intense, pale, with dull eyes and discouraged bearing. Such are the real heroic burden-bearers. They are the victims of the health-breaking nature of their work—confinement, long hours, lack of sunlight and fresh air; and many, many times, when

BALDWIN TO MEET MURPHY

Everything in connection with the first round bout between Young Murphy and Matty Baldwin has been definitely settled, and the fight will be a diversion at the Lincoln Club, Chelsea, next Thursday night. They will meet at 125 pounds, weight in at 6 o'clock, and Matty Murphy is holding forth, guaranteeing their weight and appearance.

His best strength, Quigley's rules, which means that a few battle will be witnessed, and if it is a success, the star show put on at Chelsea this year.

EX-CHAMPS WIND UP FORTNIGHT OF RATHER UNSUCCESSFUL TRAINING AT MACON.

BY WILLIAM H. DOYLE.

Start correspondent of the Boston American with the team at Macon.

MACON, Ga., March 24.—Today will witness the wind-up of the training of the team at Macon. A boxing star has created the bunch that there will be a fight at the oval, which will be a fair fight. A bunch of old practice and a game with the professional team are on the cards.

The team is expected to be a good one, for Macon gave Atlanta a major league team, a game by only one run yesterday, and Manager Schmitt gave the word that the team with Boston will be the best.

Men Look Heavy.

With a fortnight of work behind them, the Boston team are up against the necessity for a good lot of hard work before they can enable to have a big league grand stand and give the spectators their money's worth. The fact which adhered to their during the winter is the state of the kind, and some of them, look even heavier than when they dropped of the train here.

Collins has apparently dropped a much, although he has worn his sweater everywhere but in the oval, which he came from the Springs. Clark Nash looks blazer, Tom Harris, Clark, Graham, Pettis, Hughes and Armstrong all will have to trim weight a bit before they can be fit. The foremost of the cold spell, coupled with heavy appetite, rock weight off nobody but the waiters at the hotel, who had to bustle to keep the bunch from shouting out the hunger.

Collins is fully aware of this, and has made no complaint about the lack of the players, but when he hears "New Orleans," he involuntarily comes up at the side of the oval.

The team got the spirit of its life yesterday in a little thing named Mercer's freshmen, who were in to pitch for the Mercer College team. From the fact, he had the bunch boys inflated, and in three innings he gave them only six hits. The little fellow went in a nerve but when they were up, when the bat came into contact with it, and man after man was felled out.

Patris was the only one who could hit in good shape. A leading of the Mercer boys, too, was good to look at. The score 2 to 1, in Collins's favor was the result of a gift for the Mercer boys deserved all they got. They gave him a serving of exercise, but it was accepted along to the eleventh inning. Each side was retired rapidly, and the whole game only burned up the time of six hours and twenty-five minutes.

Joanly Gave Only Five Hits.

Joanly and Peterson were the chief offenders for the ex-champs. Right up to the beginning of the game, Collins had figured on pitching Harris and Hughes, but the Mercer boys had a touch handed after dinner and Hughes's shiny ankle would let him do anything. Joanly gave the youngsters only five hits.

The pool table and other skates have taken the place of the theatre and other diversions, and there is little doing, except where they are found.

WHAT'S THIS, GIRLS? IS THE GIBSON STYLE OF BEAUTY DOOMED TO DEATH?

The Girl Who Is Needed in the Home Should Stay There

By Beatrice Fairfax

Will Women Who Have Starved and Trained for Years Now Rush for the Restaurants?

By Dorothy Dix

It girls girls girls! Something terrible has happened. The great feminine fetish has been assailed. The divinity that every mother's daughter of us worshipped has been declared a false goddess and torn from her pedestal.

Clashes to this news dispatch from Cleveland:

"Child (sister of the girl) writes to my mother from a letter of the Gibson girls used to advertise a play. He asked the business manager in his office and learned that about a year ago one of them under threat of a stiff fine if he did, asked for an explanation of his objection to the pictures that were adorned with the pictures as used in every girls' school in the United States. Gailard replied:

"Then ain't art?"

Think of it. The Gibson girls are not art. We have known all along that they were not nature, and now to be told that they are art is a blow to all motherhood.

For years, and years, and years—perhaps, it isn't so many years, but our suffering make time seem ages long. We have striven to reach the ideal of perfection set by the Gibson girls. No matter how thin and nervous we were, no matter how tall and short, and chunky and we were, we have faithfully and honestly and conscientiously, and painfully tried to cut ourselves over by that model of female pulchritude.

A Hard Road

Just last night at eight, after we had done the physical culture and style lessons, and turned out our Gibson girl, and tied down our double chin in straps guaranteed to give a straight front figure, our eyes again instinctively sought for hope and inspiration in the likeness of the American girl as the original of the ideal.

It has been a hard road to travel. How hard only those who have tried it can tell. But it is a road which has led to the hearts and minds of the girls of this country, and their hands on their hearts and minds. They have been forced to realize in any good cause as I have been in making (Gibson girl) of myself, I would deserve to be criticized and reviled and called a "martyr."

But alas, although the spirit was willing the flesh has been weak, and the most of us have been unable to stand in the face of the temptation of the world, the flesh and the devil.

Those of us who were tall and thin and slender and looked like a Greek goddess, and those who were stout and plump and looked like a Greek goddess.

Effort-Waste

On the other hand, those of us who were stout and plump and looked like a Greek goddess, and those who were tall and thin and slender and looked like a Greek goddess.

And now to learn that this ideal of the Gibson girl is a false one, and that the pictures that have been used to advertise a play are not art, is a blow to all motherhood.

Think of it. The Gibson girls are not art. We have known all along that they were not nature, and now to be told that they are art is a blow to all motherhood.

JAPS WORK ON ISLAND IN WONDERLAND

Japanese workmen, using Japanese tools and guided by equally old Japanese specifications and plans in constructing the Japanese village at Wonderland Park, Bay View Heights, are the most interesting among the hundreds engaged on the construction of the big park.

These plans and specifications, when shown to the Bay View Inspector of Buildings, Javed that official. The inspector was not sure whether or not it was a case of a building or a pattern for building work. He referred the matter to the Japanese Construction Company, which is constructing the Japanese village, and the company was told that the inspector "only" is about as good as a Japanese, and may work as such.

That Baby of a Thousand Millions

May It Live Long, Prosper and See
Important Changes

It is not likely that even Thomas F. Ryan will ever get it away from the grandfather, the son or the grandson. There is SO MUCH of it that the fortune must GROW inevitably; even faster than our most talented financiers can steal it.

Fifty millions a year roll in to swell that great pile of gold. In a cradle there lies, toothless, cross-eyed, crooked-legged, hairless and vague, a little human atom that, if our customs prevail, WILL INHERIT A THOUSAND MILLIONS, WITH ALL THE THOUSANDS OF MILLIONS TO BE ADDED.

This billion dollar baby brings before you a most vivid picture of American conditions.

What will be the future of that child—its future experiences, its future fortune.

You realize, of course, that long before the child is twenty-one years of age, that fortune of a thousand millions will have increased to FOUR THOUSAND MILLIONS.

Money well invested at compound interest doubles in the hands of the ordinary man every fifteen years.

But a ROCKEFELLER is not content with such low profits. A million dollars can be made to earn a million dollars in ONE DAY in Wall Street—when Rockefeller's banks bully and frighten the gamblers.

The Rockefeller fortune represents in one little corner of its vastness the entire lighting business of a great city.

When that city doubles its population THE VALUE OF THE MONOPOLY DOUBLES.

Thus the fortune is doubled through the power of MONOPOLY, while the capital accumulated has doubled through compound interest.

Sooner or later the American people must meet the problem which this Rockefeller baby presents. This birth of a baby billionaire, first in history, is a thing that thoughtful readers will discuss among themselves, and that newspapers—even the poor, feeble, money-worshipping kind—have got to take into consideration.

It is no use talking about money being spent and going back to the people. A ROCKEFELLER FORTUNE CANNOT BE SPENT. A BILLION DOLLARS CANNOT GO BACK TO THE PEOPLE under present conditions.

The INCOME that comes rolling into the home of that tiny baby is at this moment FIFTY MILLIONS OF DOLLARS A YEAR. This means that to ONE HOME there go every year the profits ON FIFTY MILLION DOLLARS OF HUMAN LABOR AT LEAST.

Think how a great human army is ruled by the sceptre to be handed down to that child!

It is an army that SUPPORTS ITSELF and pays in tribute millions upon millions from its own necessities to the mind that controls it.

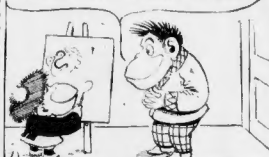

That baby is born to prey upon the hundreds of thousands of others

Mr. John D. Rockefeller's son has a son. This interesting baby has a grandfather worth a thousand millions of dollars. That enormous fortune CAN NEVER BE SPENT.

THE WIGGLE OF A POLLYWOG SEEMS COMICAL TO ME,—THE WIGGLE OF OLD TOWNERS TAIL IS FUNNY AS CAN BE!

CAN'T YOU TEACH THE CHILD ANYTHING BUT MAKING FUN OF ME!

lying in other cradles throughout the country.

EVERY ONE OF THE OTHER BABIES MUST GROW UP AND WORK TO GIVE MONEY TO THIS ROCKEFELLER CHILD.

Every little girl baby that will live to sew for a living by lamp-light will grow up TO PAY TRIBUTE TO THIS BILLIONAIRE BABY.

Every little farmer's home will send to this baby its contributions.

Every automobile will pay to this child so much for every mile that it runs.

The washerwoman carrying her heavy bundle will give her penny to that child when she boards the street car. The man working in the steel mills will work so many hours a day for this child. Every freight train carrying its heavy, slow loads across the continent will be EARNING MONEY FOR THE BILLION DOLLAR BABY.

It is an interesting feature of American life this birth of the heir to a thousand millions—THIS BIRTH OF A BABY BORN WITH "THE RIGHT" TO TAX THE OTHER HUMAN BEINGS OF THE LAND.

This newspaper and all of its readers will wish this little child a happy life, and if possible a useful life. The little thing has come here not of its own accord. It is not to be blamed for the false influences that will be brought to bear upon it; it is not to be blamed for the crisis it may represent, AND THE GREAT NATIONAL TROUBLE IT MAY CAUSE BEFORE ITS PROBLEM SHALL HAVE BEEN SOLVED.

All of the eighty millions of Americans working and struggling and paying tribute to this baby's grandfather have only the best wishes for the helpless little child in its cradle.

But we all hope that it may live to see conditions very DIFFERENT from those which greet its birth.

We all hope that PEACEABLY AND RATIONALLY AND WITH ITS OWN CONSENT AND THAT OF OTHERS LIKE IT, the system will be done away with which permits ONE man to prey upon and to tax the necessities of ALL.

Readers, your minds have often dwelt upon striking figures in history; upon young Alexander, conquering the restive horse, preparing for his great career of conquest; upon Napoleon, the lioness, morose boy at the Paris military school; upon Cromwell, the bullet-headed English lad, whose life meant death to a King.

BUT NEVER IN YOUR LIFE HAVE YOU STUDIED OR THOUGHT OF A HISTORICAL FIGURE MORE IMPORTANT THAN THAT OF THIS LITTLE ROCKEFELLER CHILD, REPRESENTING IN HIS PERSON THE AMERICAN SYSTEM OF MONOPOLY, EXTORTION, INDUSTRIAL SLAVERY UNDER PROTECTION OF "LAW."

Governor Guild
Will Not Be Embarrassed

A Minority of the Massachusetts Senate, Temporarily in Power, Saw to It That He Will Not Stand in Bates's Shoes

A minority of the Massachusetts Senate, temporarily in power yesterday, prevented Governor Guild from passing through the same unpleasant experience—at least from the same cause.

The people of Massachusetts demand the "Overtime Bill." Every workman is for it. Every labor union is recorded in its favor. A majority of the Legislature must either approve it or misrepresent its constituency. It would appear that there could be little doubt of its passage, even though the great corporations, which care very little about the women and children who work for a living, do oppose it.

But it would be very embarrassing for a Republican Governor of Massachusetts to have such a bill laid before him for his signature. If he signed it he would incur the enmity of the mill owners. If he vetoed it he would invite the political fate of Governor Bates.

This argument was one of the most specious that the corporation influences at the State House could find to convert honorable Senators of the dominant party. It probably caught some of them. Others, it is to be presumed, were secured by other means—by logical, reasonable argument to the effect that working men do not know what is good for their women and children, perhaps.

But it didn't catch enough. IT REMAINED FOR TRICKERY AND PARLIAMENTARY SHARP PRACTICE TO DO THAT.

The "Overtime Bill" came up in the Senate Wednesday, and was passed. An attempt to reconsider the motion, on Thursday, was defeated by a vote of 20 to 17. The bill was passed to be engrossed.

Yesterday, when the Senate convened, it was found that FOUR MEMBERS WHO HAD VOTED FOR THE BILL WERE ABSENT, without having provided for the pairs that would have recorded their votes. A motion to reconsider was made. There were attempts on the part of the friends of labor to delay a vote until such time as there could be a full attendance. They were defeated, and the bill, in its engrossment stage, was finally lost, after the President had locked the doors, refused to put motions to adjourn, and finally cast a deciding vote after a tie.

That the working people of Massachusetts have been refused this legislation by their Senate is of moment. It is of greater moment, however, that A MINORITY ACCOMPLISHED THE DOWNFALL OF THE WILL OF THE MAJORITY. It shows the power, the cleverness and the resource of the corporations at the State House.

Every workman in Massachusetts should familiarize himself with the names of the Senators who voted that women and children should work nights in the factories, AND KEEP THE NAMES FOR REFERENCE. These are the men:

- Allan G. Buttrick, of Worcester, a Lawyer.
- Charles W. Clark, of Wilmington, a Lawyer.
- Morton E. Converse, of Winchendon, a Manufacturer.
- Prentiss Cummings, of Brookline, a Lawyer.
- William F. Dana, of Newton, a Lawyer.
- Charles L. Dean, of Malden, a Manufacturer.
- Frank Gerrett, of Greenfield, a Farmer.
- Heman A. Harding, of Chatham, a Lawyer.
- Samuel E. Hull, of Millbury, Cotton and Wool Dealer.
- Harrie C. Hunter, of Marlboro, a Pharmacist.
- William S. Kyle, of Plymouth, a Manufacturer.
- Daniel W. Lane, of Boston, a Broker.
- Edward B. Nevins, of Weymouth, a Retired Coal Dealer.
- Fordis C. Parker, of Springfield, an Insurance Agent and Grain Dealer.

- Charles N. Prouty, of Spencer, a Manufacturer.
- Elmer A. Stevens, of Somerville, a Provision Dealer.
- Arthur M. Taft, of Worcester, a Lawyer.
- James H. Walker, of Amesbury, a Manufacturer.

These are also four Senators who may be expected to explain WHY THEY WERE ABSENT FROM THE SENATE WITHOUT PAIRS WHEN THEY MIGHT WELL EXPECT A MOTION TO RECONSIDER ON SO IMPORTANT A QUESTION AS THIS. They are:

- LOUIS S. COX, of Lawrence, a Lawyer.
- JOHN M. GROSVENOR, of Swampscott, a Manufacturing Chemist.
- SIDNEY A. HILL, of Stoneham, a Manufacturer.
- HORTON H. HILTON, of Lowell, an Employee of the Boston & Maine Railroad.

Possibly these Senators have perfect excuses for their strange absence which contributed to the defeat of one of the most important pieces of legislation of the year. If so, their constituents will expect AND ARE ENTITLED TO HEAR THEM.

That they wished to save Governor Guild from embarrassment, even though clever lobbyists convinced them it was a good excuse, will hardly be accepted as such by the people.

REMARKS

By Rev. Charles A. Crane

Pastor People's Temple.

After the great typhoon last October in the Philippines, which destroyed houses, crops and fruit-bearing trees so that many of the natives were on the point of starvation, the United States soldiers shared their rations with the sufferers and by this means an era of good will has come about which no amount of bullets could have effected. This is the right way to kill enemies.

Mr. Suchida, the Japanese consul-general in New York, has made a sensation by recently suggesting on a public occasion that a new treaty embracing the United States, Great Britain and Japan is now in order. We beg to suggest that before we enter this new alliance we be permitted to disrupt our present alliance with the Standard Oil nation and the petty states which make up that great Commonwealth.
